JUDGMENT

In accordance with this Court's order for entry of judgment,

The Court declares that the property still owned by the Wallers after the partial taking of easements by American Transmission Co. LLC and ATC Management Inc., its corporate manager, does not constitute an uneconomic remnant within the meaning of Wis. Stat. §32.06(3m). This action is dismissed and ATC is awarded its costs and disbursements as taxed by the clerk in the amount of $ 417.85.

Dated this 21 day of May, 2010.

AFFIDAVIT OF MARK J. STEICHEN

STATE OF WISCONSIN)
) ss.
COUNTY OF DANE)

I, Mark J. Steichen, being duly sworn on oath, state as follows:

1. I am an attorney for American Transmission Co. LLC and ATC Management Inc. its corporate manager (together "ATC"). I make this affidavit in support of ATC's Bill of Costs in this case.

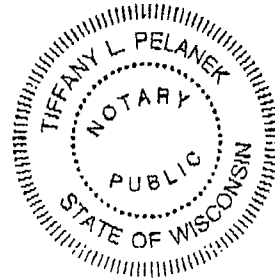

2. The costs and disbursements set out in ATC's Bill of Costs were actually incurred and were necessary for the defense of this action.

3. Certain items of costs, namely postage and telephone charges were incurred for both Walworth County Case No. 2008-CV-955 and Case No. 200-CV-520. These cases involve the same parties, the factual issues are closely interrelated, and ATC is entitled to costs in both cases. These costs are difficult apportion exactly between the two cases. Accordingly, to the extent not attributable separately to one case. the total costs for these items, have been divided equally between the two cases.
